

AGATHA RUIZ DE LA PRADA BABY

AUTUMN - WINTER 2015

Here it is the most genuine and friendly idea for Winter 2015 kids-wear. A Collection full of coloured and fancy shapes, Agatha Ruiz de la Prada's style is able to get the children fill winter landscapes of colour and fun.

This Collection is the ultimate recipe for cold and fog, against the snow and the grey winter: children's clothing takes on major importance in colours, fun, games and guffaws. A proposal of comfortable and funny clothes that provides a burst of innocence and joy by combining our prints, colourful and different volumes.

Bold patterns that are the most important sign of this season: our hearts in thousand different forms, sizes and designs, flowers of different sizes and colours, stars, shamrocks, apples and child scribbles turn into special prints. All these ideas, and our designs with volume provide freedom to the children and their own style. We show a palette of deep and amazing colours: red and pink-fuchsia, electric blue and acid yellow, vibrant orange and green grass. Who said acid colours does not fit for winter?

Our garments show aesthetic confidence and comfort to children, for which the brand selects carefully fabrics and it manufactures every single garment with care to detail.