Autumn - Winter 2015

Tutto Piccolo, true to its style, capable to renew season by season the best classic designs, show its most tender choice, warm and stylish for winter. This is a Collection with intense colors for boys and girls and tender and delicate hues for babies. And always, in all cases, they have been naturally woven becoming warm fabrics that surround them a caress.

No matter that the days get shorter and the cold weather gets worse. Our kids will enjoy winter with this Collection created for this Winter 2015.

In order to wrap up our kids when they go outside, Tutto Piccolo proposes a warm hug of fluffy quilted jackets, classic little wool coats and versatile parkas. It can not miss the knitted hats, gloves and matching scarves, so that our children can make fun of thermometer.

Our Collection includes clothes to wear under our jackets and coats, which are comfortable clothing made of the finest cotton fabrics and Jacquard with velvet effect. Toasty flannel and viyellas fabrics. Plushes are also used with the softest touch and the best tweeds. And for a holiday, classy taffeta and guipure details.

This Winter Collection is also a challenge of intense colour, perfect to face the coldest days. Pink, light blue, white and grey colours that stand out the ultimate tenderness of babies. For boys and girls, red and pink of different intensities (from pale pink and fuchsia to burgundy) and blue in several hues (from dark blue to denim) that mix to form tartan patterns. We also have green water and elegant combinations of orange with navy and ochre colours with indigo one. Other colours that will finish our Collection are dark grey and white, that give even more intensity to our idea. The designs for winter also include monochrome floral fine patterns and subtle tie rack drawings.

In short, a new proposal of the most international kids fashion brand of Spain, that shows its ability to design and make garments with loving care, that give warmth and comfort. And with its unmistakable style to create designs for the whole childhood.
